In Memoriam

Lloyd A. Bailey, founder of ADS charter member Diesel Injection Service Co. Inc. in Louisville, Ky. passed away Thursday, Sept. 6. Bailey started the business in April 1950. In 1956 he was one of 21 people asked to attend the first meeting in Chicago for the formation of an association to exchange ideas in the diesel industry. The Association of Diesel Specialists (ADS) was created, and Bailey served as president from 1970–1972. Bailey was also chairman of the standards committee for several years. In 1966, Bailey was selected by a special committee to receive the Henry B. Sirotek Memorial Award for devoting high principles of dedicated and imaginative work to the industry. He also served as a trustee of the ADS/Henry & Esther Ortner Foundation. Bailey will be missed by all of us.
